A Note from our Conference Chair

When I think back on all the conferences New York State ENA has held since 1980 (yes I am that old!), what strikes me most is our ongoing commitment to education to meet the very specific needs of emergency nurses. That resolve has not changed over the years, but our approach has. We now have access to education on-line and ENA Scientific Assembly. But we also realize that options vary according to the needs of our New York State ENA members. Each year we evaluate surveys and post conference recommendations, we attempt to meet the needs of those who are recertifying for the CEN, or CPEN. We look for high risk and cutting edge topics; research or best practice based. We look for highly qualified speakers. We provide networking opportunities that help you problem solve and strategize. And, we look to entertain.

This year's conference will again be held in Saratoga Springs. Everyone loves to wander downtown, enjoy the many outdoor cafes, and meet with old friends. Our opening and closing receptions allow time to talk with our exhibitors and select your favorite basket to win at the raffle. I am incredibly pleased to have our current ENA President, Dr. Gail Pisarcik Lenehan with us, to give our keynote address and to meet with our leaders group, as well as all of the attendees. We also are pleased to have Dr. Lisa Wolf providing two clinical sessions for us including our closing. The line up of all our presentations follows in this brochure and I know you will again have a difficult time selecting the break out session you wish to attend.

Also this year, look for an opportunity to share your research or best practice poster as we offer our first poster presentations. Information follows and can be accessed at nysena.org

Another difference this year is our “going green initiative” that has been requested by many of our members!! The complete brochure can only be found ONLINE at NYSENA.org. New York State ENA members will also be receiving a mailed mini-flyer this year. You will be able to download the brochure to share with friends. You will also be able to download outlines for the sessions you choose to attend from the web site before the conference opens. And you will be able to complete your evaluations and register your CE credits on line after the conference closes. If they agree, our speakers may also provide added educational materials and references on the web site at the end of the conference.

So, take time to read the brochure and plan to attend with your coworkers and friends. We have many budget friendly options for registration

I look forward to seeing you all in Saratoga in April!!

Brainstorms- Weathering Stroke Care in the ED Mary Ann Teeter RN, MEd, CEN, CNRN, FNP-C

Stroke care and maintaining hospital certification status is a challenge for all. This year's four hour pre session will include some "basics", but will also provide you with the most updated research, explore diagnosis and care for some special populations and atypical presentations. It will provide you with best practice strategies to apply as you deliver care to patients with stroke and TIA symptoms. Will fulfill your Stroke Center education requirements.

7:30 am - 12:00 pm

Leadership Workshop; Sharing Successful (and Unsuccessful) Practices in the ED Moderated by:

Gail Pisarcik Lenehan, RN, EdD, MSN, FACN, FAAN
Maryfran Hughes, RN, MSN
Audrey Sealy, RN, PhD, FNP

Being an ED nurse manager, coordinator, charge nurse, or educator involves so much more than assuring quality patient care. We are now complying with CMS core measures, preventing errors and providing safe patient care while boarding more patients than ever. We are seeing increases in patient volume and violence; decreases, in many cases, with patient and staff satisfaction. The challenges seem unachievable more often than not. This session is open to all nurses who share a leadership role in the ED or are planning for the future. Our session leaders include our ENA and NYSENA presidents and the Massachusetts General Hospital ED Nursing Director. Come and share your challenges, questions, and successes to a group that knows!!

Keynote: Discovering ENA Today
Gail Pisarcik Lenehan, RN, EdD, MSN, FACN, FAAN

For the "seasoned" emergency nurse, ENA has been an essential part of our careers and lives. The organization grew with our specialty status and continues to provide the education and advocacy we need. Gail will talk about the Emergency Nurses Association of today, its role in health care and the many resources available to us in ways we may have never imagined. We can utilize those resources to provide best practice care to our patients, to advocate in our hospitals and communities for safety, efficiency, and satisfaction. The goal of ENA to meet the needs of emergency nurses and our patients is an ongoing and ever improving process!!

3:00 pm - 4:15 pm

No Forwarding Address: Emergency Care of the Homeless
David P Marciniak, RN, BSN, CEN

It feels like the scope of this problem is growing each day, and that is our reality. Those who make up our homeless population are not who we think they are. Discuss the attitudes toward and realities of the homeless population and the care challenges they provide. The clinical problem list for these patients are multiple and require creative and "out of the box" solutions.

Understanding Pediatric Abuse
Carol Boutilier RN, CEN, FNC-SA, ABMDI

Pediatric abuse. The words anger us, sober us, challenge us clinically and emotionally. How do we balance what for many is "their worst case scenario" as an emergency nurse with the need to be as "expert" as we can be? Many attendees asked for Carol to return this year to talk about pediatric physical and sexual abuse and the emergency nurse's role. We agree this is a topic we can never learn enough about!

Critical Assessments in Trauma Care: A Case Study Approach

Cathy Norton Lind, RN, MSN, NP, CEN, CPEN

We learn a systematic way to evaluate any trauma patient and apply those principles daily. What happens when the patient presentation or outcome challenges that process? This session will explore, through case studies, the initial findings as well as secondary injuries, looking at some age specific challenges. Finally, the communication and collaboration of the trauma team is explored as a plan of care is developed

Concussion: Its More Than Just a Bump on the Head

Debra Blanchard, RN, MSN, CNRN

Head injuries have become a major concern for any patient or family. Does the patient need a CT? What will it show? And how do we educate about concussions? Are our long term behavioral patients victims of head trauma? This lecture will discuss the recognition and evaluation of concussions, and provide guidelines for patient and family education and follow up. A review of the current research will provide you with the answers to help your patients.

This session discusses those varying concepts, as well as methods to develop skills in the ever changing (it seems) role. Finally, review those patient presentations that will challenge and fool you as you attempt to make your triage decision.

Florence Nightingale and Aristotle walk into a bar..... Finding the 'good' nurse in the mediocre haystack

Lisa Wolf, RN, PhD, CEN

What is the "good nurse?" And for many of us—"where are they?!" Explore with Lisa the dilemma we all face whether we are hiring, working with, or precepting to achieve the nurse we would all like to become and share our shift with. In an era of difficult change and growth, this may be the most challenging question of all!

Basket Raffle / Closing Reception

Special Events

Each year we have our opening and closing receptions in the exhibit area. Our exhibitors, many of whom have supported us for years, have important information and education to share. They listen to our comments about products we need in the future. And they provide resource information we take back to our EDs.

Since 2002, we have sponsored a basket raffle to support a scholarship for a prehospital, or emergency responder to use toward an undergraduate nursing degree. This past year, the 10th anniversary of 9/11, NYSENA decided to begin the process to endow this scholarship. We have committed to raise $100,000 for this effort!!! The basket raffle is our most fun fund raiser, and everyone benefits!! The baskets each year have become a shoppers delight to meet the tastes of any of the attendees. We all wait to hear our name called while enjoying a last visit with colleagues from across the state.

Call for Poster Presentations

(And Best Evidence Practice Papers)

The New York State Emergency Nurses Association (NYSENA) is seeking research and evidence-based practice abstracts that address emergency care issues including clinical, education and injury prevention for presentation at the 2012 ENA Annual Setting the Pace Conference to be held April 19 & 20, 2012 in Saratoga Springs, NY.

This is an excellent opportunity to present your work and discuss the problems of, and solutions to, many of the pressing issues in today's emergency health care environment with nurses, managers, leaders, researchers, and other participants.

Abstract Guidelines

The paper and poster sessions are focused on topics that are of interest and importance to nurses, managers, educators, researchers and others who practice in emergency care settings. Abstracts must reflect either completed projects or projects in the final stages of completion with results available for inclusion in the poster presentation. Suggested topics include, but are not limited to, abstracts which address clinical practice, education, research, injury prevention, quality & patient safety, trauma, government affairs, pediatrics, telephone triage, emergency medical services, forensics, etc.

Authors may submit abstracts for more than one paper and/or poster. ENA prefers to accept posters and papers from a variety of authors. A primary presenter is the individual who registers for the conference (registration is required) and who presents the paper or poster at the conference. This presenter will have their poster hung at the conference but the presenter does not need to stay at poster, they may attend classes at the conference.

Note: Primary presenters are expected to adhere to the guidelines and schedules concerning dates and time periods of poster display as well as the specific time periods the presenters are required to be at their posters in order to answer questions and/or discuss poster content with conference attendees. "Poster Instructions" outlining these requirements are sent via e-mail to the primary contact and primary presenter prior to the date of the conference.

Poster Awards Program: Sponsored by the NYSENA, the Poster Awards Program is open to all authors of presented posters (both ENA members and non-members). Two awards will be given out - one for the best Research poster, and one for the best Evidence-based Practice poster. To be eligible for this award, the poster must be set up at the start of the conference - NO exceptions. Additional information is available contact Sue Chalupa Breese at sbreese@rochester.rr.com.

The deadline for submission is April 15, 2012.
