

Emergency Department Violence Prevention Panel Member

Wendy Allen-Thompson, DNP, RN, NEA-BC

NYSENA President-Elect

Dr. Wendy Allen-Thompson is a registered nurse with more than 28 years of experience. Her educational background includes bachelor's and master's degrees from Roberts Wesleyan University. Her master's degree is in nursing leadership and administration. Dr. Thompson earned her Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) from Rush University in Healthcare Systems Leadership.

Her clinical work history includes 20+ years of bedside nursing mostly in an emergency department setting and also working as a flight nurse for nearly 10 years.

When not working, Dr. Thompson enjoys time with her family. She enjoys volunteering as the president and first responder in her local fire department and as the New York State President Elect of the Emergency Nurses Association. Involvement in other professional leadership and nursing organizations includes American College of Healthcare Executives, American Organization for Nursing Leadership, and the American Nurses Association.

Last year Dr. Thompson started in her new role as the Vice President and Chief Nursing Officer at Millard Fillmore Suburban Hospital, Kaleida Health and is pleased to be here today representing the New York State Emergency Nurses Association.
